Start with small amounts (drops under tongue) and gradually increase.

Go Slowly

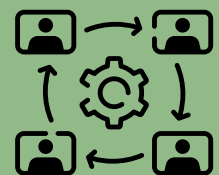

Observe

Aim for 1/4 to 1/2 cup daily as a health elixir. Creates a feedback loop with the body.

Start with external applications before moving to internal use.

Next Steps

Consider consistent daily or weekly practice to establish a "conversation" with the body.

Begin slowly and observe the body's reactions to avoid potential healing crises.

Research more through books, videos, and community resources, to further deepen into the practice.
